Brainstorm of ISEA Topics

Critical perspectives on the use of technology for peace

- Peer-to-peer website in which both parties choose cultural categories they wish to be educated in and are matched with others who originate from those areas.

The cultural dimensions of bio-creation and peace

- Educational website that explores various historical events and the moments that led to a countries'/organization's tipping point (i.e. wars, rebellions). Reviews the occurrences of conflict and how actions were taken in order to acquire peace.

Interdisciplinary platforms for coexistence

- Website tool that identify key characteristics within multiple disciplines in search of relatability and compliments. This will help to achieve clarity so that transdisciplinary collaboration can be executed to the intended scale and reach a wider range of audiences.
